Although the Department of Human Services (Department) has used codes S9123, described as “Nursing care, in the home; by registered nurse, per hour,” and S9124, described as “Nursing care, in the home; by licensed practical nurse, per hour,” for pediatric shift care nursing HHCS, providers and other stakeholders expressed concerns that they are not able to bill for services provided in smaller time increments.

DISCUSSION:

The Department is adding procedure codes T1002 and T1003 to the MA Program Fee Schedule to allow providers to seek authorization of, and bill for, pediatric shift care nursing for MA beneficiaries under 21 years of age in 15-minute increments. These procedure codes are available for Provider Type/Specialty combination 05/050 (Home Health/Home Health Services) in Place of Service 12 (Home) with no modifiers.

Procedure Code	Code Description	Fee	Unit Limit	Age Limit	Prior Authorization Required
T1002	RN services, up to 15 minutes	$12.50 per unit	96 per day	Age 0-20	Yes
T1003	LPN services, up to 15 minutes	$12.50 per unit	96 per day	Age 0-20	Yes

PROCEDURE:

Prior authorization is required for pediatric shift care nursing provided by HHAs. When seeking prior authorization of pediatric shift care nursing HHCS rendered to MA beneficiaries under 21 years of age, providers must identify either procedure codes T1002/T1003 or S9123/S9124 on the MA 97 form. Only one of the Registered Nurse codes (T10002 or S9123) and one of the Licensed Practical Nurse codes (T10003 or S9124) can be used in a calendar month for a beneficiary, although providers may seek prior authorization for a different procedure code beginning on the first day of a subsequent calendar month when submitting a new MA 97 form.

Pediatric shift care nursing rendered by HHAs with a provider specialty of 050 are HHCS subject to EVV. Procedure codes T1002, T1003, S9123, and S9124 will all be accepted by EVV systems.
