National Influenza Vaccination Week

National Influenza Vaccination Week (December 5-9, 2022) is an opportunity to remind your patients and your patients' parents/guardians, for children 6 months to 17 years of age, about the importance of the flu vaccine.

As people begin to gather in larger groups for holiday parties, it is more important than ever for patients to protect themselves and their loved ones.

For more information on immunizations and other preventive health guidelines, see the Preventive Health Guidelines page of the Provider Resource Center under EDUCATION/MANUALS.
